INTRODUCTION

Kronus, a planet on the outer edges of the Imperium of Man, has been conquered by the Tau Empire. This young, yet technologically advanced race, has swept through the eastern fringe of the galaxy with almost unstoppable force, and inducting other races they've encountered. Efficient and powerful, the Tau Empire's Fire Warriors are almost without rival. But other powers have their eyes on Kronus as well. Lying dormant under the planet's surface for 60 million years, the terrible and fearsome Necrons have begun to awaken from their eons-long slumber. The almost invincible armies of the Necrons fight for one simple purpose: to destroy all life. They fight without emotion or remorse, their enemies falling quickly to their massive armies and unholy weaponry. Only once all life in the galaxy has been purged will the Necrons find satisfaction. But, resistance to their terrible genocide will be strong.

Word of the Necron threat on Kronus has spread quickly throughout the galaxy, however, and the other major powers have arrived to stake their claim on the valuable planet. The stage is set for a war of terrible proportions, with seven different races vying for complete control of the planet. Will the fearsome Necrons scourge the planet of all life? Will the Tau somehow drive off the other six races, and preserve their fledgling colony?

The Dark Crusade is about to begin...

NEW UNITS & STRATEGIES!

Warhammer® 40,000: Dawn of War™ - Dark Crusade™ adds exciting new units and gameplay features that expand the battlefields of the 41st Millennium.

There are two new races to play, the Tau Empire and the Necrons. The Tau Empire, a highly technological race, are adept at long-ranged attacks, and are best suited towards a patient and almost methodical approach to battle. The Tau can also utilize the powers of the Kroot and the Vespids, two races inducted to the Tau ideology of the Greater Good.

The Necrons are an ancient race fighting for a single purpose: the destruction of all life. They have lain dormant under the surface of Kronus for 60 million years, but the presence of the Tau has finally awakened the Necrons from their unholy rest. They bring to the battlefield a fierce mix of infantry and the unique ability to reassemble their defeated, making them seemingly invincible.

The newest updates for this exciting installment in the Warhammer 40,000 saga include

- Two new races, each with all-new and powerful units, structures and abilities, bringing the total to seven unique, playable races.
- New units and abilities for all the existing Dawn of War races (Chaos Space Marines, Eldar, Imperial Guard, Orks, and Space Marines).
- A new Campaign mode that puts you in the command role of any of the seven playable races, each of which is battling for control of the planet Kronus. The mode features 18 new Skirmish maps to conquer, and emphasizes both strategy and reward. Conquered areas of the planet can be reinforced with troops to make them harder to invade, while victories reward you with Wargear, special spoils of war that not only change the physical appearance of your particular commander, but also greatly enhance his abilities.
- Experience a more diverse and in-depth view of the world of Warhammer 40,000 from the perspective of your chosen race.

SINGLE PLAYER CAMPAIGN

Warhammer 40,000: Dawn of War – Dark Crusade offers you the chance to conquer the entire world of Kronus in its single-player campaign. Take on the role of one of seven commanders, using strategy and skill at battle to drive out the six other races vying for this world.

THE DARK CRUSADE

As described at the beginning of this manual, the Planet Kronus is the site of a massive conflict between seven armies. The Tau Empire and the Necrons are both fighting over this world, but so are many others. This fearsome seven-way war will be remembered in the Imperial histories as the Dark Crusade.

The seven factions vying for control are:

- Chaos Space Marines: Elphas the Inheritor, a Dark Apostle of the Word Bearer legion has come to remake Kronus in the twisted image of the Chaos Gods.
- Eldar: Farseer Taldeer of Craftworld Ulthwé has foreseen the return of the genocidal Necrons. Now that they have awoken on Kronus, she trusts no others to stop them.
- Imperial Guard: Governor Lukas Alexander and his 1st Kronus Regiment have come to free the world from alien domination and restore it to the Imperium of Man.
- Necrons: The Necron Lord of Kronus has awoken to find his tomb world infested with the living. He will wipe it clean as a tribute to his fearsome god, the Nightbringer.
- Orks: Warlord Gorgutz 'Ead 'Unter sees Kronus as another prize for his Waaagh! No one is tougher or meaner than an Ork, and no Ork is tougher or meaner than Gorgutz.
- Space Marines: Brother-Captain Davian Thule of the Blood Raven chapter has arrived to carry out a great purge. Dark secrets and holy relics lurk on this alien-infested planet and he must protect them.
- Tau Empire: Shas'o Kais, military commander of Tau forces on Kronus, fights to keep this world in the Tau Empire. While others fight for greed, pride or conquest, he fights for the Greater Good.

You can play the Dark Crusade campaign as any one of these races. Each has its own story to tell, which will unfold as you conquer the planet.

STARTING THE CAMPAIGN

Start the Single-Player Campaign by clicking New on the campaign menu (accessed from the overall main menu). You can then choose your overall difficulty level. This choice will influence the resiliency of your own and enemy units throughout the campaign.

You then get to choose which race you will play. You can play as any of the seven available races, and can certainly try the campaign as different races at different times. You cannot switch races within the campaign, but you can maintain several saved campaigns (each with a different race).

THE CAMPAIGN MAP

The major interface for the single-player campaign is the overall Campaign Map. This map shows you all 25 of the provinces on Kronus, and allows you to launch attacks, move your army around the map, reinforce your provinces and more.

Clicking on a province brings key information about that region in the right-hand panel. It also allows you to target that province.

The Campaign Map provides you with a variety of critical information:

- Army Position: Each of the seven armies are represented on the map by the figure of their commander. You can only attack provinces adjacent to your army, so where each army is defines the strategic landscape.
- Planetary Requisition: This is the main resource for large-scale strategy. It represents the resources you command to help your conquest, both by exploiting local resources, and from allied forces off-world. Each province gives you a certain amount of Planetary Requisition each turn, and you can spend this resource to reinforce your provinces and augment your attacks.
- Military Strength: Each province has a rating (from 1 to 15, listed in a small shield) for its overall military strength. This represents the overall level of opposition you can expect when attacking this province. The Military Strength of your provinces is determined by the amount of reinforcements you have stationed there (see below) and which buildings you built when attacking the province. The enemy similarly will reinforce to raise the Military Strength of their provinces.
- Province Bonus: Conquering a province awards you a special bonus. For some this bonus is a squad for your Honor Guard (see p. XX). Other provinces grant you special abilities, such as being able to attack distant provinces or move twice in a single turn.
- Strongholds: Seven provinces are special and marked with the banners of their owners. These are the home provinces of each race. Conquering a stronghold defeats that race in the campaign.

ACTING ON THE CAMPAIGN MAP

Action in the single-player campaign is divided into turns. Each turn you may make 1 move on the map, as well as take several other actions. Possible actions on your turn include:

- Attack (1 move): You may attack any enemy province adjacent to the province where your army begins the turn. Provinces you can target are marked with a red arrow. To attack simply select the targeted province and click "Attack." (This takes you to a confirmation screen where you can review your attack and back out if you wish.)

You carry out attacks on a unique battle map for each province. If you can defeat the defenders, you will take over the province.

- Move (1 move): If an adjacent province is one you already control, you may simply move your army there instead of attacking (presumably to set up an attack in a later turn). Provinces where you can move are marked with a green arrow. To move simply select your destination province and click "Move."

- Reinforce (0 moves): You can spend Planetary Requisition to garrison troops in a province you control. To do so, select the province and click "Reinforce." This will bring up the Reinforce Screen, where you can see available troops, and any troops already stationed there. To garrison a squad simply click on that squad's icon at the bottom of the screen.
- Recall Troops (0 moves): From the Reinforce Screen, you can also recall troops you previously garrisoned in a province. Simply click on the squads icon in the province to recall that squad. Recalling squads regains some Planetary Requisition.
- Review History (0 moves): You can review basic facts and historical details about any province on Kronus by selecting it and clicking "History." This will give you an overview of the province, as well as a document drawn from the planet's history.
- Review Commander Info (0 moves): By clicking "Commander" you can access a screen that provides you with a snapshot of your commander and achievements. This screen includes your commander's game statistics, your Honor Guard, and a roster of the races you have defeated. You can also review Wargear from this screen.

Once you have finished your actions for the turn, click "End Turn." The enemy armies will then each take their actions.

Note: The faction that controls the Eres Badlands gets 2 moves each turn, allowing them to move or attack twice.

COMMANDER HONOR GUARD

As you conquer more and more of Kronus you will gain up to a dozen special units for your commander's Honor Guard. These are elite troops assigned to your commander due to his prowess in battle.

Conquering a province with an Honor Guard squad as its bonus grants you the right to train this squad. To train the squad, you must spend Planetary Requisition. You can do this either on the Commander Screen (by clicking on a pale icon of the squad) or on the Attack Screen (by clicking on the icon at the bottom of the screen).

Once an Honor Guard unit is trained it begins all attacks ready, alongside the commander. This enables you to repel any early attacks on your base, and to drive quickly into enemy territory. Honor Guard units can be killed in battle, however, and must then be retrained.

WARGEAR

Throughout the campaign, you will be awarded Wargear for your victories. Wargear are unique weapons and pieces of equipment that increases the strength of your commander in combat. Wargear also changes the appearance of your commander, making him look more imposing on the battlefield.

Any time you are awarded wargear, you will be able to go to a special Wargear screen and choose a new piece from the ten available. Some pieces of wargear have prerequisites, however, so you may need to get one piece to later upgrade to another.

Note also that once you add a piece of wargear and confirm by leaving the screen, you cannot remove that piece.

You can access the Wargear Screen at any time from the Commander Screen.

Wargear awards come throughout the campaign in recognition for conquering territories, defending them from attack, killing opponents, and more.

DEFENDING YOUR PROVINCES

When the enemy factions take their turns, they may very well choose to attack one of your territories. If so, you will be prompted to defend your territory. The prompt provides you with the military strength of the attacker (which determines how strong the attack will be) as well as critical information about your own province.

You then have two choices:

- Fight: This option brings you to the province's battle map, where you face off against the attacking forces. You must destroy the attackers to repel their advance.
- Auto-Resolve: This option allows you to bypass the battle and have the computer automatically determine the winner, based on the relative strengths of your forces and the attacker's. You always have a better chance of defending your province by fighting the battle yourself.

The forces you will have at your disposal when defending a province are determined by several factors:

- Reinforcing: If you have reinforced the province by stationing troops there on the Reinforce Screen, those units will be available when the province comes under attack.
- Existing Buildings: Any structures you built when you attacked this province will still be there when you defend it. This will allow you to get powerful units out quickly. (Note that the enemy will clear out any structures near their own headquarters.)
- Your Army: If your army is currently located in the province you are defending (or in a province adjacent to it), your commander and Honor Guard will join the defense. If not, you can train the commander in play.

WINNING THE GAME

To win the campaign, you must take the six enemy strongholds on the map. These are the home provinces of your enemies and if you conquer them, you drive most of their forces from Kronus for good.

Attacking a stronghold is not an easy affair, however. While most battles for other provinces will be simple skirmishes, the strongholds are altogether different. The enemy is well entrenched in terrain that suits its tactics. Victory in a stronghold is usually a matter of achieving a particular objective, such as assassinating a leader or crippling a device.

Once you have taken a race's stronghold, that race can no longer launch attacks. Any other provinces they occupied at the time of their defeat remain in their hands (as stranded forces hunker down), but they are no longer a threat. You can leave such stranded provinces be, or mop them up to collect the bonuses they provide.

LOSING THE GAME

If an enemy faction manages to conquer your stronghold, you too will be driven from Kronus.

NECRONS

For 60 million years, the Necrons have lain dormant under the surface of the planet Kronus. Aeons ago, the Necrontyr race clung to their short lives in fear of oblivion at the hands of their massive and ravaging star. They pushed the limits of science in an effort to lengthen their lives, but to no avail. Then, the star gods known as the C'tan were discovered, offering immortality at a terrible price. The Necrontyr agreed, and their souls were encased in living metal bodies. What they did not know was that the process dulled their minds and senses so they became slaves of the C'tan. The C'tan needed warrior-slaves to harvest the life forms of the galaxy so the star gods can feast on souls, and the C'tan's new Necrons served this purpose well. Their methods are fearsome and without remorse. On the field of battle they wield unholy armaments and can tap in to the dark powers of their god to give them a considerable edge against their enemies.

Made of a malleable and flexible metallic element that has the power to regenerate itself, the Necrons are never fully defeated when slain. Most Necron units have a chance to reassemble themselves once defeated, effectively making them invincible.

While highly powerful melee combatants, the Necrons are also adept at long-ranged attacks. Their ancient technologies make them skilled at fighting both infantry and vehicles. Their most important unit, the Necron Lord, can also be upgraded with a variety of artifacts. Once upgraded, the Necron Lord can strengthen the power of Necron units in his vicinity.

The unholy forces of the Necron are perhaps the most formidable in Warhammer 40,000: Dark Crusade. With powerful weapons, the ability to reassemble their defeated, and an unquenchable thirst to enslave all life, the Necrons are an unholy force to be reckoned with.

Note on the Necron Economy:

Necrons are unique in the sense that they do not use the Requisition resource (the resource normally generated by strategic points). Necrons capture strategic points to deprive the enemy of their resources, and to serve as a foundation for a Tower of Impending Doom. Each Tower built reduces the time required to train and reinforce units, and the time required to complete researches. Each Tower built also increases the Necrons' maximum squad and vehicle cap.

NECRON UNITS

BUILDER SCARAB (HOT KEY: S)

The Builder Scarab is the most basic of Necron units, but is also one of the most valuable. It is the only unit that can capture Strategic Points, and also serves as the building unit for creating Necron structures. Builder Scarabs can also repair damaged structures, infantry and vehicles in the heat of battle. While extremely useful in expanding your territory, Builder Scarabs are not outfitted with any weapons, making them extremely vulnerable to enemies. Builder Scarabs can also detect infiltrated units.

NECRON WARRIOR (HOT KEY: N)

This Necron heavy infantry unit is a terror to behold on the field of battle. Made of a flexible and regenerative metal, the Necron Warrior can actually regenerate health while in the field, and also take on enemy infantry with its powerful gauss weaponry. Necron Warriors also have a chance of reassembling themselves if they are defeated. While technically the lowest Necron infantry unit, in large numbers, the Necron Warrior is a formidable foe. Necron Warriors can be teleported back to any Necron building except the Gauss Turret using their Summon ability.

WRAITH (HOT KEY: W)

Capable of phasing itself out of the physical world, the Wraith is a deceptive unit, especially when put in a reconnaissance role. Wraiths move extremely fast and are capable of a tremendously powerful melee attack at close range. But, Wraiths are also lightly armored and can take little punishment from enemy units (although they are more resilient against ranged attacks). While phased, these units can move about the map freely, but are unable to attack. Wraiths can also detect infiltrated units and uncapture enemy Strategic Points.

NECRON LORD (HOT KEY: L)

The primary Necron commander unit, the Necron Lord is a powerful foe when in close proximity to other Necron infantry. By acquiring artifacts, the Necron Lord can exponentially increase its abilities as well as the strength of the troops around it. As you upgrade the Necron Monolith headquarters, the Necron Lord can gain access to more powerful abilities and upgrades.

IMMORTALS (HOT KEY: I)

This Necron heavy infantry unit is best suited for assaults on enemy structures and vehicles. Their heavy gauss blasters can penetrate most enemy armor and have the longest range of all Necron weapons, although when facing enemy infantry, Immortals are better served using melee attacks. Like the Necron Warriors, Immortals also have the chance to reassemble themselves if they are defeated.

PARIAHS (HOT KEY: P)

An unholy combination of metal and flesh, the Pariahs are the newest breed of Necron infantry. Each blow from their Warscythe can reduce an enemy's movement speed as well as maximum health, an effect that lasts until the Pariahs are defeated. This skill makes them extremely effective against both light and heavy infantry.

PLAYED ONES (HOT KEY: F)

The sight of Flayed Ones on the battlefield is enough to reduce any nearby enemy infantry morale. These units drape the skins of their defeated enemies on their corrupt bodies, giving them a macabre appearance. If such a sight isn't enough to dissuade enemy units, the Flayed Ones are also capable of incredibly powerful melee attacks and can also reassemble themselves when defeated. Due to their short attack range, they are best suited for direct infantry and heavy infantry confrontations. Flayed Ones can be teleported back to any Necron building except the Gauss Turret using their Summon ability.

NECRON VEHICLES

TOMB SPYDERS (HOT KEY: T)

The Tomb Spyder unit is a strong mix of both anti-infantry melee combat and support. The Tomb Spyder is adept at close-range attacks, but can also assist in the field by creating Attack Scarabs at the expense of its own health. When used in assaults, the Tomb Spyder can also reassemble fallen infantry, bringing them back to fighting condition. Attack Scarabs can attack both units and buildings, but are most effective against enemy vehicles.

DESTROYER (HOT KEY: D)

This hulking infantry unit is a Necron Warrior that's been attached to a skimmer body, giving it high agility and attack capabilities. The Destroyer is best suited for countering enemy infantry. Destroyers have a melee attack that allow them to disrupt ranged enemy infantry squads.

HEAVY DESTROYER (Hot Key: H)

The Heavy Destroyer is much like the Destroyer unit, except that it is geared towards destroying enemy structures and vehicles. The Heavy Destroyer is also a very fast moving unit, making it ideal for surprise attacks as well as offering anti-vehicle support in larger assaults. Destroyers have a melee attack that allow them to disrupt ranged enemy infantry squads.

LORD DESTROYER (HOT KEY: O)

An evil abomination to say the least, the Lord Destroyer is a lesser Necron Lord attached to a skimmer body. The horrifying result of such a mix is a deadly heavy infantry unit that is swift and extremely deadly. While its weaponry is moderately effective against enemy infantry and vehicles, the Lord Destroyer's true power lies in its ability to freeze enemy units in stasis, and its ability to possess enemy vehicles.

NECRON BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES

MONOLITH (HOT KEY: M)

The Necron Monolith headquarters is the most basic and important structure you can have. The Monolith serves as a starting point, allowing you to build other structures in close proximity to it. The Monolith is also the building from which all units are trained. When first built, the Monolith is considered to be Dormant, but can be upgraded to increase its powers. The entire Necron economy is centered around bringing the Dormant Monolith back to life. Each successive upgrade slowly awakens the Monolith's true powers as well as unlocking additional units. Once fully awakened, the Monolith becomes an extremely deadly mobile fortress, that can destroy any other unit in the game.

PLASMA GENERATOR (HOT KEY: P)

The Plasma Generator generates the Power resource, which is essential for creating and deploying units, building structures, and upgrading your technology. You can only build so many Plasma Generators in proximity to your Monolith and, when destroyed, Plasma Generators will damage any unit or building nearby. Necron Plasma Generators increase in cost as more are built.

OBELISK (HOT KEY: L)

Obelisks bolster any captured Strategic Points when built upon them, protecting them from the enemy. Obelisks also reduce the time needed to research upgrades and create and deploy units. Obelisks can also be upgraded with heavier fortifications, allowing them to serve as gun emplacements and further reducing the time needed for upgrades and unit creation. Once built, an Obelisk will also create a small Control Area around its perimeter, allowing you to build other structures around it. Obelisks have the added bonus of increasing both your squad and vehicle cap.

THERMO PLASMA GENERATOR (HOT KEY: T)

The Thermo Plasma Generator operates much like the regular Plasma Generator, but must be erected directly on a Slag Deposit. Once built, the structure will let you accumulate Power resources at a much higher rate, but like its Plasma Generator counterpart, it is very unstable. Once destroyed, it will damage any nearby unit or structure.

SUMMONING CORE (HOT KEY: S)

The Necron Summoning core is a required structure for the creation of more advanced infantry units. Once built, the Summoning Core gives you access to additional units, as well as unlocking the summoning ability for Necron Warriors and Flayed Ones.

GREATER SUMMONING CORE (HOT KEY: G)

The building of a Greater Summoning Core grants you access to more deadly and advanced vehicle units, including Destroyers, Heavy Destroyers, and Tomb Spydres. Outside of allowing you to build vehicles, the Greater Summoning Core also unlocks additional upgrades for your Monolith headquarters.

FORBIDDEN ARCHIVE (HOT KEY: F)

Holding unholy and terrible artifacts, the Forbidden Archive serves one purpose only: to increase the power of your Necron Lord. You can choose from 8 deadly artifacts, each of which bestows new powers upon your Necron Lord. You will face difficult decisions though, since you can only choose a maximum of three artifacts.

ENERGY CORE (HOT KEY: E)

The Energy Core is required to fully awaken the capabilities of your Necron Monolith headquarters, a process that requires a surplus of both time and resources. Once built, the Energy Core will allow you to utilize your Monolith as a mobile engine of mass destruction, and also bestows the powerful Essence of the Nightbringer ability on your Necron Lord.

GAUSS TURRET (HOT KEY: U)

An important piece of your war machine, the Gauss Turret is a structure equipped with a Heavy Gauss Flayer. Effective against infantry, the Turret can also be upgraded with additional weaponry to combat enemy vehicles. The Gauss Turret can detect infiltrated enemy infantry, and has an impressive range on its attacks, making it a valuable tool in protecting your Monolith and other structures.

NECRON UNIT ABILITIES

The Necron units have a wide variety of special abilities that they can use to turn the battle their way. Most abilities are focused on leader units, who are able to imbue and strengthen even the most basic Necron unit to become a powerful fighter when it is needed most.

NECRON LORD ABILITIES

Chronometron (Hot Key: C) – Allows the Necron Lord to slow time for several seconds, while granting Necron forces the power to move and attack normally.

Lightning Field (Hot Key: L) – The Necron Lord will unleash an unholy barrage of lightning against any units that deal him melee damage. Each melee attack also builds up a stored electrical charge that the Necron Lord can unleash on his enemies.

Nightmare Shroud (Hot Key: N) – The Necron Lord can unleash a cloud of fear on the battlefield. Any unit trapped in his perimeter will lose morale and flee for a short period of time.

Phase Shifter (Hot Key: P) – When utilized, the Necron Lord will phase out of the physical world along with any nearby units, allowing them to either flee from battle, or to hold the enemy in place while waiting for reinforcements.

Phylactery (Hot Key: Y) – The Necron Lord summons a swarm of locusts that envelope his body, reducing the amount of ranged damage he receives, while also significantly boosting his health regeneration.

Resurrection Orb (Hot Key: R) – Resurrection Orb allows the Necron Lord to resurrect nearby fallen Necron infantry. This ability has a passive component that will increase the number of defeated Necron units that reassemble when in close proximity to the Necron Lord. The orb also allows him to periodically cast a mass resurrection spell that brings all dead Necron units to life in a small area around him.

Solar Pulse (Hot Key: S) – The Solar Pulse allows the Necron Lord to expose infiltrated enemy units in a large area, while also temporarily blinding nearby enemy units (hence disabling their ranged attacks).

Veil of Darkness (Hot Key: V) – Allows the Necron Lord to temporarily cloak nearby units. This ability cannot be used on the Necron Lord when he is low on health.

Essence of the Nightbringer (Hot Key: E) – The deadliest of the Necron Lord's abilities, the Essence of the Nightbringer allows the Necron Lord to temporarily transform himself into a ghostly manifestation of the Nightbringer. Once transformed, the Necron Lord becomes invulnerable, and has an immensely powerful melee attack. All damage inflicted by the Nightbringer is also gifted to the Necron Lord as health when he returns to his regular form.

Teleport (Hot Key: J) – This ability allows the Necron Lord to teleport around the battlefield.

NECRON INFANTRY ABILITIES

Get Back Up – The base chance that a defeated Necron units will reassemble and return to battle. If successful, the reassembled unit returns at half health.

Persist – Those Necron units that don't reassemble have a chance of being brought back to life by certain support units, such as Tomb Spyderys or a Necron Lord with the Resurrection Orb ability.

Reduce Research Time – This is the power Obelisks have to reduce the time needed to research new abilities and upgrades, as well as train and deploy new Necron units.

Phase Shift (Hot Key: P) – An ability of the Wraith that phases it out of the physical world temporarily. While this timed ability is active, the Wraith can neither be damaged nor attack.

Summoning (Hot Key: J) – Allows both Necron Warriors and Flayed Ones to teleport to any Necron building except the Gauss Turret.

Deep Strike (Hot Key: E) – This ability allows Flayed Ones built at the Monolith to emerge out of the ground anywhere your units have line of sight to.

NECRON VEHICLE ABILITIES

Possession (Hot Key: P) – Allows a Lord Destroyer to possess any enemy vehicle. If successful, the Lord Destroyer will disappear from view and become the vehicle itself. If the vehicle is destroyed, the Lord Destroyer will phase back in to view, with reduced health.

Stasis Field (Hot Key: F) – Lord Destroyers gain the ability to trap units in a stasis field, rendering them immobile and unable to attack.

Spawn Scarabs (Hot Key: S) – Tomb Spyderys spawn Attack Scarabs at the expense of their health.

NECRON MONOLITH

The Necron Monolith is a unique structure that serves two very important purposes in Warhammer 40,000: Dawn of War - Dark Crusade. The structure serves as the main Necron Headquarters, as well as its Barracks, Vehicle Shop and Armory. When first built, the Monolith is considered Dormant. By awakening the Monolith with upgrades, more of its latent powers will come online, giving you further access to more sophisticated upgrades and more deadly infantry and vehicle units.

Once fully awakened, the Monolith's second purpose becomes clear: destruction. A fully awakened Monolith becomes a mobile attack base, able to engage and destroy even the most powerful enemy units and vehicles.

THE TAU EMPIRE

While a relatively young race, the Tau have made their presence known by becoming one of the most efficient and powerful military forces in the galaxy. Fresh from their successful campaign to conquer Kronus, the Tau are seemingly without rivals. Their powerful technology has laid waste to countless armies, but it is their unique ideology that proves to be their most powerful weapon.

Fighting for what they call the Greater Good, the Tau sweep through the galaxy, seeking enlightenment and unity to those who join them. This powerful ideology, while focused on community and well-being, lends itself well to the ways of combat. Tau fighters are extremely determined in their reasons to fight, giving them exceptionally high morale.

Two such allied races are the Kroot and the Vespids. Having joined the Tau Empire, the two alien races now fight for them, giving the Tau army a wide array of unique attack capabilities. The Kroot are fearsome warriors adept at melee combat, while the insectoid Vespids are skilled at quick raids and assaults, thanks to their speed.

While Tau units are most effective utilizing their rifles from long range, their unique relationship with the Kroot and the Vespids ensure that the Greater Good will be spread throughout the galaxy.

TAU EMPIRE UNITS

EARTH CASTE BUILDER (HOT KEY: E)

The building unit for the Tau, the Earth Caste Builder can erect a number of structures and perform repairs on damaged structures. The unit is highly important to expanding your territory, but comes outfitted with no weaponry, making it very vulnerable to enemy attacks.

XV15 STEALTHSUIT (HOT KEY: S)

XV15 Stealthsuits are the main scouting unit for the Tau, and can infiltrate enemy territory, secure Strategic Points, and engage in light combat. Stealthsuits are naturally invisible to enemies, and can only be spotted by enemy detectors. They can also upgrade to receive a team leader (or "Shas'vere") who wears a heavier XV25 Stealthsuit. Stealthsuits can jump after researching the jetpacks upgrade.

FIRE WARRIOR (HOT KEY: F)

The basic Tau attack infantry, the Fire Warrior is most effective when engaging the enemy from a considerable distance. Highly accurate, they can reduce enemy units to ash before they even know where the attacks are coming from. Unfortunately, despite their ranged capabilities, Fire Warriors are extremely ineffective in melee combat.

PATHFINDER (HOT KEY: P)

While not as powerful as other Tau infantry, the Pathfinder unit is an excellent support unit. They have the ability to mark enemy units, making them extremely vulnerable to ranged fire. Pathfinders also offer suppression fire, which temporarily slows the advance of enemy units.

TAU COMMANDER (HOT KEY: C)

The Tau Commander is the main hero unit of the Tau Empire. The Tau Commander is unique in the sense that he has no melee attack, he is purely a ranged specialist. The Tau Commander can't take as much punishment as other commanders, but his firepower more than makes up for this. The Tau Commander also has several weapon upgrades that he can choose from to increase his firepower. Once having researched his upgrades, the Tau Commander is comparable to a mobile weapon platform – excelling at both anti-infantry and anti-vehicle tasks.

XV88 BROADSIDE (HOT KEY: B)

This Tau heavy infantry unit comes equipped with dual missile pods, making it very effective against enemy vehicles. The Broadside can entrench itself and utilize powerful twin railguns, making it a formidable weapon emplacement. The railgun is good against both infantry and vehicles.

XV8 CRISIS BATTLESUIT (HOT KEY: X)

Powerful from both short and long range, the XV8 Crisis Battlesuit is reserved for the most elite of Tau infantry. The Battlesuit comes equipped with a jetpack that allows the unit to travel over the battlefield at an accelerated pace. The Battlesuit also features customizable weapons that can be modified to make them more effective against a variety of enemy units.

KROOT CARNIVORE (HOT KEY: C)

The Kroot Carnivore is a special alien unit that has pledged allegiance to the Tau Empire. Kroot Carnivores are most effective in melee combat, where they can reduce enemy infantry to shreds with their powerful claws. Kroot Carnivores can also cannibalize the corpses of defeated units which not only replenishes lost health, but also increases the maximum health of all Kroot Carnivores on the battlefield.

KROOT SHAPER (HOT KEY: S)

The Kroot Shaper serves as commander for lesser Kroot infantry, improving both their health and their speed. He is most effective when commanding Kroot Carnivores or Kroot Hound Packs.

KROOT HOUND PACK (HOT KEY: H)

Effective against both infantry and heavy infantry, the Kroot Hound Pack is an intimidating foe best suited at melee combat. Fast and agile, the unit can cover distances quickly, making them an important piece of any Tau assault force.

VESPID STINGWINGS (HOT KEY: V)

The insectoid Vespids are highly valuable when used as a reconnaissance squad, but can also deal out massive damage with their diamond-sharp claws at close range. Their Jump ability allows them to traverse great distances on the battlefield almost instantly. The Vespids Strain leader increases the maximum amount of health for each Vespids Stingwing member.

ETHEREAL (HOT KEY: E)

The Tau Ethereal proves valuable when supporting other Tau units. Its For The Greater Good ability can increase the health, morale, and attack power of all on-map Tau units as long as the Ethereal is alive, making it a powerful support unit. The Ethereal can also summon its elite bodyguard to help turn the tides of battle, or call upon the Air Caste to bomb a location into oblivion.

GREATER KNARLOC (HOT KEY: G)

The legendary Greater Knarloc is the ultimate killing machine available to the Tau. It can reduce even the most heavily armored vehicles in the game to scrap metal in a matter of moments. Against infantry, it has a high chance of killing any unit instantly by biting it in half. Its thick hide makes it almost impervious to all damage and attacks.

TAU EMPIRE VEHICLES

DEVILFISH TROOP CARRIER (HOT KEY: C)

If infantry units must be moved across the battlefield, the Tau Devilfish Troop Carrier is the best vehicle for that job because of its stealth abilities. Capable of holding three full squads of infantry, it can drop off units wherever they are needed. The vehicle also is equipped with a burst cannon for close range attacks, but is ineffective in prolonged assaults.

DRONE SQUAD (HOT KEY: R)

The Drone Squad possesses the ability to burrow in the ground and wait for unsuspecting enemies to pass within their reach. Once alerted, the Drone Squad will spring from their hiding places and attack, making them an effective surprise attack unit. When it is low on health, the Drone Squad will self-destruct, damaging all nearby enemy units.

SKYRAY MISSILE GUNSHIP (HOT KEY: S)

The Skyray Missile Gunship is an ideal vehicle for engaging the enemy from a very long distance. A mobile missile platform, the Skyray's Missile Barrage upgrade allows it to unload an entire payload on to a small area on the map, resulting in massive damage.

DRONE HARBINGER (HOT KEY: D)

The Drone Harbinger is not designed to directly engage enemy forces, but instead is a mobile Drone hangar that lets you transport Drones anywhere on the field of battle. Once deployed, the Drones disperse and attack any enemies that come within range until their limited supply of energy is depleted.

HAMMERHEAD GUNSHIP (HOT KEY: H)

The ultimate Tau vehicle, the Hammerhead Gunship is best suited for engaging enemy heavy armored vehicles and structures. The Hammerhead can also kill infantry fairly effectively, though it is better suited to larger, heavier targets. While carrying a payload of powerful weaponry, the Hammerhead Gunship has lighter armor than most enemy vehicle counterparts, making it more susceptible to attack.

KROOTOX (HOT KEY: K)

This enormous beast of burden has been harnessed by the Kroot for use in battle. Mounted by a Kroot Carnivore, it is effective at both ranged and melee combat. Its size and strength make it extremely deadly against all enemy unit types, including infantry, structures, and vehicles.

CADRE HEADQUARTERS (HOT KEY: C)

The Tau Cadre Headquarters serves as your main base of operations. The building lets you create Earth Caste Builders, Stealth Suits, and Vespid Stingwings. Outside of infantry creation the Cadre Headquarters lets you research new infantry upgrades and also allows you to build other structures in a perimeter around it.

PLASMA GENERATOR (HOT KEY: P)

The Plasma Generator is your main means of acquiring the Power resource. Once built, the Plasma Generator can be upgraded a number of times to increase the rate at which you can accumulate Power. A Tau Cadre Headquarters can only support a limited number of Plasma Generators. Once destroyed by enemies, Plasma Generators will damage any nearby units or buildings.

TAU BARRACKS (HOT KEY: B)

The main Tau infantry units are created at the Barracks, including Fire Warriors, Pathfinders, XV88 Broadsides, and XV8 Crisis Suits. You can also train a Tau Commander at the Barracks, a powerful infantry unit adept at both combat and supporting other nearby Tau units.

LISTENING POST (HOT KEY: L)

The Listening Post can be built upon any Strategic Points or Relic sites. Once built, the structure will increase the rate at which you accumulate the Requisition resource from that point, as well as make it more difficult for an enemy to capture. The Listening Post can be upgraded a number of times with more advanced weaponry to make it more effective against various enemy units.

KROOT BARRACKS (HOT KEY: N)

This building is required if you wish to requisition the many Kroot infantry units, including Kroot Carnivores, Kroot Shaper, Kroot Hound Packs, Krootox, and the Greater Knarloc.

PATH TO ENLIGHTENMENT (HOT KEY: E)

The main Tau research structure, the Path to Enlightenment serves a number of important roles. Once built, the structure will allow you to upgrade infantry and vehicle capabilities, as well as increase both your population and vehicle cap. The Path to Enlightenment will also allow you to build either a Mont'ka Command Post or a Kayyon Command Post.

VEHICLE BEACON (HOT KEY: V)

The Vehicle Beacon allows you to call in the use of Tau vehicles, including the Devilfish Troop Carrier, Skyray Missile Gunships, Drone Harbingers, Drone Squads, and Hammerhead Gunships.

THERMO PLASMA GENERATOR (HOT KEY: T)

The Thermo Plasma Generator operates much like the regular Plasma Generator, but must be erected directly on a Slag Deposit. Once built, the structure will let you accumulate Power resources at a much higher rate, but like its Plasma Generator counterpart, it is very unstable. Once destroyed, it will damage any nearby unit or structure.

MONT'KA COMMAND POST (HOT KEY: M)

The Mont'ka Command Post guides the Tau in the ways of the Mont'ka, or the "killing blow." The structure is needed to requisition XV8 Crisis Suits, Hammerhead Gunships, as well as build the Coalition Center structure. The building also allows you to research more advanced upgrades for your units. If you choose to build a Mont'ka Command Post, you are prohibited from building a Kauyon Command Post.

KAUYON COMMAND POST (HOT KEY: K)

The Kauyon Command post guides the Tau in the ways of the "patient hunter." The structure allows you to requisition both Kroot hounds and Krootox, research more advanced upgrades for your units, as well as build a Coalition Center. Once built, you are prohibited from building a Mont'ka Command Post.

COALITION CENTER (HOT KEY: S)

The building of this structure further pushes the Tau in their quest for The Greater Good. The Coalition Center allows you to requisition the Tau Ethereal, and is also required for the creation of the Greater Knarloc.

TAU EMPIRE UNIT ABILITIES

While the Tau have less Commander-type abilities, they do feature a wider variety of abilities that take in to account their large number of unit types. Abilities can be researched to increase not only Tau units, but also Kroot and Vespид units.

TAU COMMANDER ABILITIES

Snare Trap (Hot Key: N) – The Tau Commander can release a Snare Trap that, once triggered, will stun and temporarily immobilize any nearby enemy units.

Target Acquired (Hot Key: G) – To increase his attack damage, the Tau Commander can charge his main weapon for a powerful attack that targets a single unit.

ETHEREAL ABILITIES

For The Greater Good – This passive ability will boost the health, morale, and attacking power of all Tau units on the map. This ability stays in effect until the Ethereal who used it is killed, at which point all Tau units on the map experience a temporary, but dramatic, drop in health, morale, and attacking power.

Holo-Projection (Hot Key: H) – This diversionary tactic allows an Ethereal to clone any Tau unit. These clones, while incapable of attacking the enemy, can absorb a modest amount of damage, making them excellent distraction units while you prepare a more power assault.

Summon Elite Bodyguards (Hot Key: S) – Even though the Ethereal is fairly ineffective in combat, he can still summon an elite squad of Tau bodyguards. These fanatical bodyguards have more attack power than regular Tau Fire Warriors, and can absorb more damage than their counterparts.

Air Caste Strike (Hot Key: B) – For extreme attacks, the Ethereal can summon an aerial attack from the Air Caste. The resulting attack deals tremendous damage to the targeted area.

TAU INFANTRY ABILITIES

Photon Grenade (Hot Key: G) – Fire Warrior squad leaders have the ability to throw Photon Grenades. Photon Grenades do heavy damage to infantry in an area of effect, and disrupt formations by throwing units back.

EMP Grenade (Hot Key: E) – Stealth Team squad leaders have the ability to throw EMP Grenades. EMP Grenades temporarily disable the circuitry of vehicles and buildings, preventing them from firing or moving for a short period of time.

Infiltration Fire – This ability allows Tau Stealthsuits to fire while infiltrated, increasing their role as a stealth and reconnaissance unit. This is not an upgrade, but an innate ability.

Detect Infiltration – A passive ability which allows Vespид Stingwings and Tau Pathfinders to better detect enemy stealth units.

Mark Squad (Hot Key: M) – To better aid their compatriots, the Tau Pathfinder can mark enemy targets. Once marked, other Tau infantry can more accurately target those enemies.

Cannibalism (Hot Key: C) – Kroot Carnivores can cannibalize the corpses of defeated enemies. Each body consumed will increase the maximum health of all Kroot Carnivores.

Feral Leap (Hot Key: F) – Feral Leap gives both Kroot Hounds and Carnivores the enhanced ability to leap at their foes from greater distances, stunning the target while doing considerable damage.

Shred (Hot Key: D) – This ability allows Vespид Stingwings to shred the armor from enemy buildings with their diamond-hard claws.

Entrench (Hot Key: E) – This ability allows the Broadside to forfeit mobility in order to deploy its twin-mounted rail guns.

TAU VEHICLE ABILITIES

Launch Harbinger Drones (Hot Key: S) – The Drone Harbinger can release a set of drones to attack enemies directly. The Drones can only attack for a limited amount of time before falling to the ground inert from lack of power.

Missile Barrage (Hot Key: B) – The Skyray has the ability to unleash all of its missiles onto a concentrated area in a massive burst of destruction.

Burrow (Hot Key: B) – Drone squads can use this ability while waiting for unsuspecting enemies to pass by.

NEW UNITS FOR EXISTING RACES

Warhammer 40,000: Dawn of War – Dark Crusade adds new units and abilities for each of the five races introduced in previous Dawn of War products.

CHAOS SPACE MARINES

DAEMON PRINCE (HOT KEY TO SUMMON: S)

The ultimate goal of a Chaos Lord is to ascend to daemonhood, becoming a powerful creature of the Warp and a commander of its legions – a Daemon Prince. By researching this summoning at the Daemon Pit, Chaos Space Marine players can now transform their Chaos Lord into the Daemon Prince.

The Daemon Prince is a supremely powerful melee combatant able to face other top-tier units in direct combat. He also benefits from most of the Chaos Lord's other upgrades.

NEW CHAOS ABILITIES

Daemon Roar (Hot Key: R) – With a mighty roar, the Daemon Prince shatters the morale of enemies in close proximity to him.

Tainted Auspex (Hot Key: N) – By cursing the ground with foul sigils, the Chaos Lord may reveal infiltrated units who pass nearby. Tainted Auspex is targeted at a point on the ground.

ELDAR

HARLEQUIN (HOT KEY: H)

An enigmatic servant of the Eldar Laughing God, the Harlequin emerges from the Webway to aid your forces and to reenact the great battles of Eldar myth. A powerful melee combatant, the Harlequin can disrupt enemy infantry with ease and deal significant damage.

NEW ELДАР ABILITIES

Dance of Death (Hot Key: D) – The Harlequin leaps from opponent to opponent with blinding speed, dealing significant damage and knocking down all but the toughest opponents.

Harlequin's Kiss (Hot Key: K) – Driving a monofilament wire into an opponent, the Harlequin kills her foe in an instant. The victim's boiling blood splashes out to damage nearby enemies as well.

IMPERIAL GUARD

HEAVY WEAPONS TEAM (HOT KEY: H)

The Heavy Weapons Team allows you to secure positions and cover chokepoints with ease. Deployed as a single trooper, the team can then entrench into a position fortified with sandbags to bring their weapons to bear. When entrenched, the Heavy Weapons Team receives major defensive bonuses. Their weapon can be upgraded to a lascannon or autocannon, allowing them to deal with vehicles or heavy infantry units.

NEW IMPERIAL GUARD ABILITIES

Entrench (Hot Key: E) – The Heavy Weapons Team digs in to bring their weapon to bear. The team is very vulnerable while entrenching, but very resilient once their sandbags are set up. Entrenched teams can not move until they unentrench.

Long Range Scan (Hot Key: S) – Used from the Field Command, the scan grants line of sight and reveals infiltrated units in the targeted area of effect. It can be targeted at any point on the map.

ORKS

FLASH GITZ (HOT KEY: F)

Obsessed with their prize Kustom Shootas, these Orks spend much of their time polishing and upgrading their powerful weapons. Other Orks call these over-equipped boyz Flash Gitz. The Gitz give Ork armies some much-needed ranged firepower and are able to mow down enemies at a distance while the other boyz charge in.

NEW ORK ABILITIES

Burna Bomb (Hot Key: N) – The Mad Dok has learned the nastiest of medicines: high explosives. He may plant a bomb that quickly counts down to a massive fiery detonation.

SPACE MARINES

GREY KNIGHTS (HOT KEY: K)

Space Marine players may now train a single squad of elite Grey Knights. Space Marines who serve as the Inquisition's premier daemonhunters, Grey Knights are powerful melee combatants and psykers. They are especially effective against daemons.

NEW SPACE MARINE ABILITIES

Furious Charge – Researched at the Armory, this ability allows Grey Knights to inflict devastating damage on their targets. Once researched, this ability is active whenever the Grey Knights are in the Assault stance.

Psychic Inquisition (Hot Key: I) The Grey Knights may release a burst of psychic energy that courses across the ground, torturing any units that come into the area of effect. The effect persists in the area for some time.
